Kendall & Kew to Laurieton Pathway Design

Port Macquarie Hastings Council project has reached another milestone with the completion of a design linking Kendall and Kew to Laurieton.

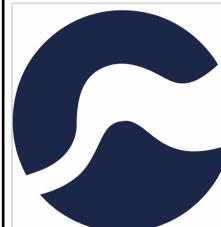

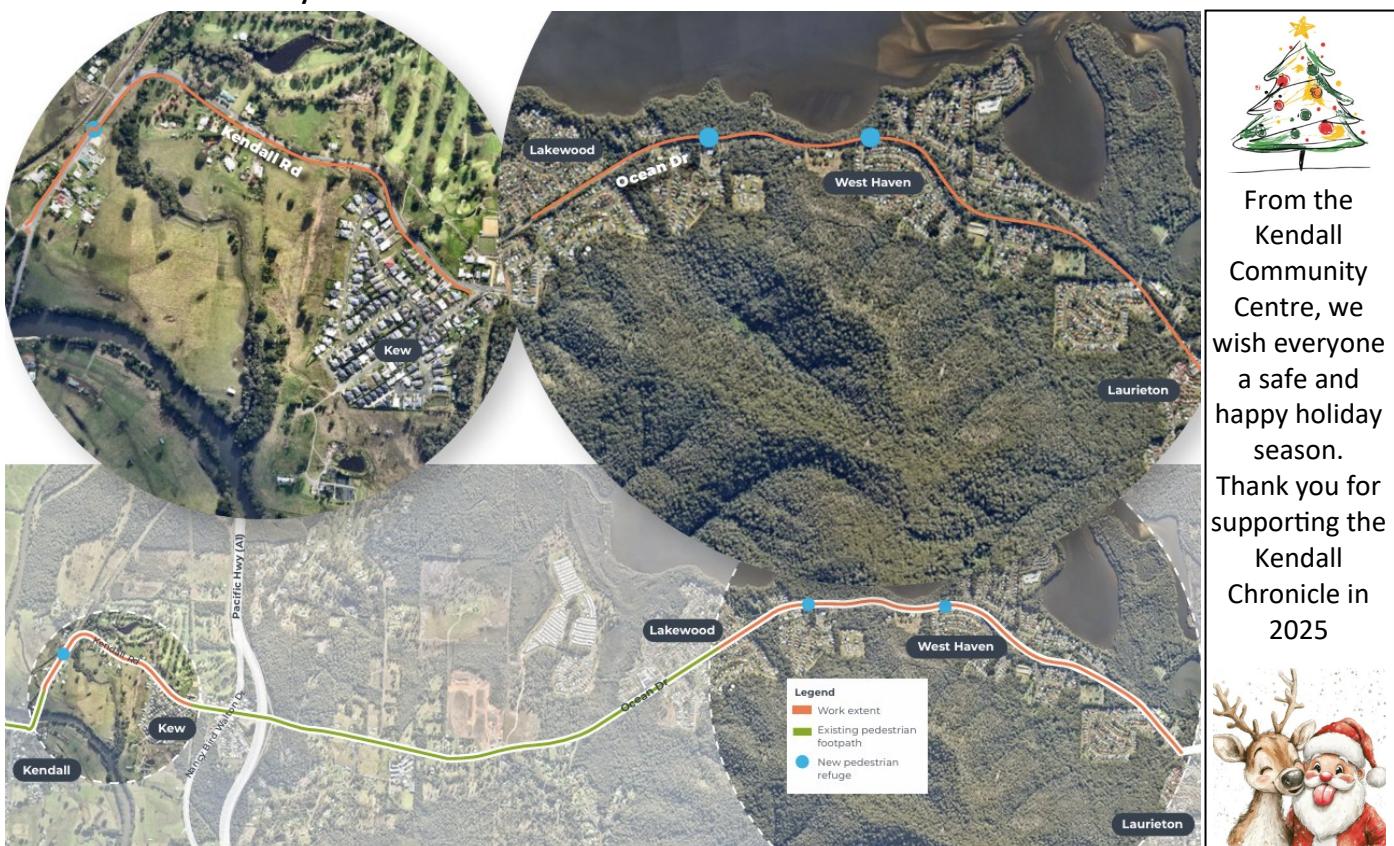

This phase focuses on the remaining stretches for the Kew to Kendall path and the Laurieton to Lakewood sections, completing the key missing links in the 14km vision for improved walking and cycling connections in the Camden Haven.

Construction is not yet funded but the intention is to deliver the pathway in line with water and wastewater upgrades that share sections of alignment with the new pathway, allowing Port Macquarie Hastings Council to reduce disruption and construction costs by delivering them together (these projects are in the detailed design phase).

You can find out more and stay up to date through the project webpage:

CWA NEWS

Kendall Branch

NOVEMBER 2025

This month we have been busy planning for our Xmas raffle. The members have been very generous again with their donations to fill up our Xmas raffle baskets.

Be on the look out for our Kendall CWA ladies selling raffle tickets. We will be at the Kendall Community Centre Meeting Place Thursday mornings and the Kendall Markets early December. Great prizes to win.

We have been able to run a couple of successful raffles over the last twelve months and this helps the Kendall CWA to donate funds to a number of groups. This year we were able to donate to the Blaze-Aid who were staying at the Show Grounds, Kendall Public School Breakfast Club and Community @ 3.

REMEMBERANCE DAY 11.11.25

Some of the ladies attended the Remembrance Day held at the Cenotaph in Kendall. It was an honour to attend the service and share the special time remembering those who have gone before us helping to make Australia a safe place to make our home.

Kendall District Gardeners Club News

(Patrons Christine & Richard Cullen)
By Jim Lewin

Unfortunately, the speaker that had been arranged for this meeting was unavailable, maybe next time. The Club was thanked for its sponsorship for the Ag Show. There were about the same number of pot plants entered, however the cut flowers were about half of last year's participation. John thanked Paul for his outstanding efforts in obtaining vouchers and prizes for the various categories. Shirley was the best prize winner in the show this year.

Working bees at the hall to do some weeding will be held on Monday (24th) and Wednesday (26th) from 8:30am. All welcome to help with the weeding.

Tomato plants were available for sale and John explained the best way to plant them in the ground. Linda spoke about some books that were available to keep. Di had some ginger flowers and plants to give away. Tin brought in an orchid to be identified – Dendrobium thyrsiflorum.

Collete had some chillis to give away. Wayne is disposing of several clivias if anyone wants to come to his place to get them.

To install a bench seat against the wall outside the doors is expected to cost around $250 for the materials and made by the Kendall Men's Shed. It was proposed by John that the Club pay for this. Seconded by Janet. It was unanimously agreed.

Instead of the original speaker we were entertained by Di and Doug. Di asked plant related quiz questions which everyone enjoyed shouting out the answers. Doug then did a talented name that tune segment where he expertly played the mouth organ. Doug then sang a song with the audience singing the chorus with great gusto.

John then presented some plants to Di and Doug for their wonderful entertainment. He then spoke about his collection of dictionaries and asked if anyone was throwing any out that he be given the opportunity to have them.

Next month is our Christmas party. Please bring along good quality lucky door prizes and delectable food to share.

Next meeting will be on 15th December 2025.

Kendall Global Community Garden

Spring Bowerbirds Delight Flower Nerds but a Lump of a Koel Proves a Frightful Troll

An explosion of spring colour in the Global Food Garden has brought smiles to the faces of the community and much needed pollinators to our crops. Some very welcome volunteers for the cause have been the myriad birds that frequent the garden. Several female satin bowerbirds and at least one male have been spotted frolicking in the orchard on multiple occasions. There are also noisy minors, magpies and a large kookaburra regularly on patrol. Not all of our avian attendees are as treasured, however as there has been a Pacific koel staking a claim on this prime wooing territory. This chap has a repetitive, urgent mating call that rises in intensity and can be maddening if in close proximity to human bird fanciers. Despite this minor annoyance, there is great bird watching to be had for the most part and members of the community are invited to make use of the garden for this purpose. It would be remiss if we did not acknowledge the time and care taken by Tin and Trishy over many years developing the perfect habitat, especially the western end of the orchard, for native birds to enjoy.

Keen gardeners, enjoyers of good quality produce and amateur ornithologists alike are encouraged to attend a working bee if they would like to learn more about the garden. The crew meet at around 9am on Thursdays but sometimes start earlier in summer if it is looking like it will be a hot day. The timing marries up nicely with the cafe and market in the hall where we also have spring vegies available for purchase. All ages and abilities are welcome.

Thank you to Kendall Op Shop

Australia is the last continent on the earth that has been invaded by the varroa mite.

There have been a lot of reports in all forms of the media on the devastation that this has affected both commercial & amateur beekeepers. There is no way known with current technology to eradicate this pest or enemy of the Apis mellifera commonly known as the European Honey Bee. In most cases beekeepers control it by the use of chemicals which not only are detrimental to the bees health but can have residual detrimental effects for other pollinators as well.

The Hastings Valley Amateur Beekeepers Association wish to take this opportunity to thank the Kendall Op Shop for giving us the Grant to purchase 2 Varroa Controllers which break the gestation cycle of the varroa mite inside the bee hive. Breaking the cycle reduces the varroa mite numbers and enables the bees in the colony to survive and thrive.

Basically how the controller works is that up to 20 sealed brood frames are put into the controller and heated to 41.2 degrees Celsius for a period of 2 hours. This process kills the varroa mite but does not injure the bee brood

Members of the Hastings Valley Amateur Beekeepers are able to borrow a controller for a cost of $50 for 3 separate occasions which compares most favourably with what they'd spend on chemicals. The huge bonus then is that their honey is absolutely ""Chemical Free"".

Our association meets on the 2nd Wednesday of each month at the Senior Citizens Centre at Wauchope at 6.30pm. Entry is a $2 gold coin to cover the hire cost. We welcome anyone interested in Bees whether they are the European Honey Bees or Australian Native Bees.

One varroa controller is based at our apiary at Redbank; the other is based at Dunbogin.

Kendall Community Boatshed Update

By Alison Stewart

One of the premier offerings from Kendall Boat Shed is the organised Away Paddles ("AP"). The criteria requires loading the kayaks and packing the caravan, with a plan to enjoy 4-7 days away. Our latest journey to Murwillumbah was among the furthest and, consequently, among the longest. However, it proved to be worth the travel with the itinerary featuring a variety of paddles, cycles and social activities. Eighteen keen club members rose to the challenge.

Murwillumbah Showground became our base camp, being the only facility for caravans within 20 km. It's well setup with basic amenities but lacks the variety, typically provided by holiday parks. Nevertheless, it must be said, everything was clean, tidy and welcoming, providing an enjoyable stay within walking distance to town.

Our first paddle was at Byangum, embarking from Col Wiley Park on the banks of the Tweed River. We paddled several km along the beautiful Tweed before turning onto the Oxley River. Beyond the stunning views, including a variety of trees, blue quandongs, giant figs and epiphytes, another highlight was passing under the weir at Old Lismore Road. The weather for this journey was overcast with intermittent showers, but warm enough to remain pleasant.

Our second paddle started from Tumbulgum, also on the banks of the Tweed River. The conditions were sunny, but the wind picked up, presenting one of several challenges - and here we expand further. Alarmingly, one of our paddlers, on an inflatable kayak, began to deflate—rapidly! By an amazing stroke of luck, we had stopped at a public wharf for morning tea. But, as we set off again, there was a discernible pop, followed by the unmistakable hiss of deflation. Fortunately, a few people still on the wharf were able to pull the paddler to safety, before getting too wet or sinking! The damage to the inflatable was not external, as initially thought. The tear was in the cockpit, occurring along a seam. It has since been attributed to 'user error', as the owner had misread the inflation instructions and used twice the recommended pressure. Our predicament was ultimately resolved by calling (and getting reception) our land support team, as they've come to be known. At the end of the day, we now have yet another wonderful anecdote, but it could have been a very different story.

Our third and final paddle departed from Crams Farm Reserve with the destination being Clarrie Hall Dam. Following the Doon Doon Creek, we meandered through the waterway around multiple islands, teeming with birdlife. On arrival at the dam's beautiful lake, we found ourselves surrounded by water lilies, with Mount Warning in the distance. Although the day was overcast, with persistent light showers, the paddle was spectacular and a fitting finale to our trip.

Although Base Camp wasn't situated on a waterway—requiring transport for each paddle—on the positive side, the showground is conveniently located near the Northern Rivers Rail Trail. The 50 km round trip is a must-do for cycling enthusiasts. Some club members also took a day to travel to Kingscliff, which featured another wonderful cycleway, offering a 60 km round trip.

Another notable highlight of this, our final AP of the year, was the addition of brief nightly entertainment. Paddlers were tasked with performing drama, poetry, singing, dancing and trivia—to the amusement of all. We can't elaborate further, as what goes on tour stays on tour!

As we wrap up another year filled with paddling, cycling, and socialising, we reflect on our club's many adventures. Along with our weekly local paddles, and monthly Mid-North Coast outings, our quarterly AP took us to Red Rock, Forster Tuncurry, Mooney Beach and Murwillumbah. And although we're still talking about the 'Great Deflate' anecdote and the belly-laugh entertainment, we eagerly await next year's adventures!

If we've whet your appetite and thinking of joining us, please email thorpe.amanda@gmail.com

A voice from the past

The Festive Season

By Sandra Haswell
In Australia on 25th December we celebrate Christmas. It's a time of connecting with friends and family and the exchange of gifts, celebrating the Nativity, attending church and decorating our homes with lights and decorations.

In other lands and long ago, December was a time of feasting, dancing and song. Winter was past and the days of Spring and warmth were to come.

Saint Nicholas Day

was celebrated with baskets of toys and sweets. Saint Nicholas was the patron Saint of pawnbrokers, as well as sailors.

Saint Lucia's Day

In northern countries where Winter lasted longer wreaths were hung and candles lit to hurry on the sun.

On 21st December the Day of the Solstice was celebrated with dancing and feasting, ceremonies and magic.

Saint Brigits Day

Saint Brigit the goddess of youth and fertility celebrated on February 1st. in Scotland and Ireland.

However, the Festive Season is celebrated, children eagerly wait for Santa to leave presents under the tree on Christmas morning, and the magic of December continues to enchant.

Parentification: How Childhood Roles Affect Your Emotional Wellbeing

In families where adults face significant stress, illness, or emotional challenges, children may take on responsibilities that exceed what's healthy or age appropriate.

This experience is known as parentification. It often involves caring for siblings, managing household tasks, or providing emotional support to parents. While this may feel necessary at the time, it can deeply impact how a person relates to themselves and others in adulthood.

Children who experience parentification often develop strengths such as responsibility, empathy, and maturity. These qualities can be valuable, but they may also come with hidden emotional costs. Difficulties with relaxation, setting boundaries, expressing vulnerability, or trusting others to provide support are common challenges.

Signs of Parentification in Adults

If you experienced parentification, you might notice some of these patterns:

- Taking on excessive responsibility for others' feelings or wellbeing
- Finding it hard to ask for or accept help
- Overworking or striving for perfection to feel secure or worthy
- Feeling guilty when you prioritise your own needs
- Feeling uncomfortable with vulnerability or downtime
- Seeking out relationships where you act as the caretaker
- Difficulty recognising your own wants and emotional needs

Healing from Parentification

Healing from the effects of parentification is a journey of self-discovery and emotional growth, not about placing blame.

Therapy and counselling can help you understand your unique story and learn how to meet your needs in a healthy way.

It's common to feel resistance, fear, or guilt when focusing on yourself during therapy. These feelings often reflect protective habits formed in childhood. Building trust with a therapist may take time, but this process is essential for lasting healing.

By working through parentification patterns with a counsellor, you can restore balance in your life, improve your relationships, and build a stronger connection with yourself. Therapy offers a safe space to develop healthy boundaries, increase self-awareness, and cultivate authentic emotional wellbeing.

If you're interested in talking to someone in confidence, our telehealth therapy offers a private, flexible first step. No GP referral. Just contact and book!

Better By Bicycle

By Alison Stewart

Since expanding their routes to include the Camden Haven, Better By Bicycle Port Macquarie ("BBB") has doubled its membership. Known as Tuesday Trails, the weekly routes alternate between the Camden Haven and Port Macquarie areas and regularly attract between 15 and 20 cyclists. Last month, the local rides featured Lake Innes through Kendall and Logans Crossing, Johns River to Crowdy Bay, and most recently, from the Royal Hotel Kew to Pilot Beach.

Club members and Laurieton residents Terry and Doreen Standing love being part of the group. Originally from London and Rhodesia, respectively, they have cycled the world. And, on that note, Terry says, "France's Mont Ventoux route is a cyclist's must-do." He adds, "I got into cycling after giving up soccer and decided it's something we can do together that keeps us fit."

Obviously, many others in my area agree. All you need is a roadworthy bike, water bottle, and helmet.

Ride details can be found on their FB page (Better By Bicycle Port Macquarie) or email info@bbbpm.net.au.
